

SHE IS IN DOUBT.

Woman Who was Attacked by a Negro at Springfield

Is Now Uncertain Regarding Her Previous Identification.

CAN PROVE AN ALIBI.

Cause of the Rioting Declares He Is Not Guilty.

The Militia Now Has the Situation Under Control.

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 17.—Mrs. Earl Hallam, victim of the attack in Springfield, which started the race war, is in doubt about the identity of her assailant. In an interview she declared that she was uncertain whether Richardson, who is now a prisoner in Bloomington, is the guilty man.

Mrs. Hallam's greatest concern now, is over the race war which resulted from her misfortune. Although herself probably the most pitiful sufferer from the affair she shows genuine regret over the general bloodshed and destruction and says that she would rather die herself than to have been the innocent cause of such a carnival of crime.

Claims an Alibi. Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17.—The claim of George Richardson, the alleged attacker of Mrs. Hallam and one of the negroes spirited reached an acute stage before the rioting reached its height, that he could prove an alibi in the accusation against him is generally credited here.

A Thing of the Past. Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17.—The race war which began here last Friday night is believed to be a thing of the past. Last night passed without untoward incident and it was confidently asserted today by those in charge of the situation that no mob of any size will form from now on. Sporadic cases of disorderly conduct may and probably will claim the attention of the militia, but it is anticipated that no more will be confronted by any serious tasks.

Springfield today entered upon the second stage of riot history—the investigation of outrages and the arrest of the guilty. A special grand jury was summoned this morning by Judge James A. Creighton, of the Sangamon county circuit court as a result of a report that yesterday afternoon between Governor Charles S. Deneen and State's Attorney Frank Hatch. Both of these officials were of the opinion that this step should be taken.

The grand jury will be held in session as long as mob violence is threatened. Evidence will be admitted to the court from day to day by officers and soldiers and indictments returned as soon as a case is made against an individual.

A large amount of evidence implicating mob violence in this city has been obtained during the rioting and this will be submitted to the grand jury. Suspects have been arrested each day during the rioting and will be held awaiting the deliberations of the official body.

Headquarters have been established at 114 North Seventh street just opposite the county jail by State's Attorney Hatch. The evidence that will be collected at this place. The purpose of establishing headquarters at this place is to facilitate matters in gathering evidence from the police officers, deputies and soldiers.

General Young Is Confident. The confidence of General Young that his force in Springfield is ready to abortive any attempt at mob violence is fully shared by the negroes. Many more of them from the residence districts came to the arsenal today, swelling the number of troops sheltered by the state to 400. None of them has left the place since they entered. It is feared that their very presence would heighten the tension and they are held as closely as is the ammunition kept in the building. None is to be seen through the open doors of the arsenal and no negro is to go in or out of the building. The color of the troops is divided from the kitchens in the millitiamen, which are located just across the alley from the west entrance to the building. The color of the troops is divided from the kitchens in the millitiamen, which are located just across the alley from the west entrance to the building.

It is estimated that 1,500 negroes have left the city since Friday, some of them to return to St. Louis, some to Chicago, St. Louis, Peoria, Decatur, Bloomington, Lincoln, Carlinville, East St. Louis and Jacksonville. Some have left the city and the Kingdom of Callaway in Missouri, and some to Kentucky and even Louisiana will be expected to furnish new homes for the refugees.

Troops A. C. D. F. and I. of the First cavalry, arrived from Chicago on a special train. They brought with them 100 horses and full camp equipment. By 6 o'clock the tents were pitched at Ninth and Jefferson streets and the odor of steaming coffee and frying bacon soon arose to tantalize appetites sharpened by hard work and a night ride, with the troops and the wagons which Adjutant General Scott calls his Shafter cavalry. It is declared soldiers in sufficient numbers to handle any situation can be rushed to any part of the city in time to prevent serious damage to property.

Caught Cutting Wires. With nearly the entire force of the Illinois National guard in control today Springfield again is ruled by the state. Fifty-five hundred armed soldiers patro, the streets and the fever for blood has subsided, temporarily at least, among the negroes. The news that ruled the state capital for 48 hours.

There has been comparatively little disturbance since the Second infantry from Chicago swept through the streets yesterday afternoon. The news of the coming also of the Seventh infantry and the First cavalry, both of Chicago, has been heralded all over the city, and this went far toward bringing about peace.

An attempt was made to cut the fire alarm wires but was not successful. The man who would have cut off the fire protection of the city was discovered on the roof of a building in the act of reaching for the wire. A half dozen shots from the troops who were on patrol in court house square were aimed at him as he stealthily climbed toward the wires.

One bullet probably hit him for he dropped to the roof of the building, but made a successful escape. To this affair, the amount of the fire the negro section on the northwest side of Springfield. Prompt action of the fire department, co-operating with a battalion of the First infantry, stopped the impending conflagration.

A platoon of infantry was dispatched to Harvard Park, a new suburb just outside the city limits to the south. Shots were fired, but so far as could be learned, nobody was injured. The troops soon returned to headquarters in the county jail. The suburbs adjacent to the main camp of the Central coal mine, where many negroes are employed.

Put in a Busy Night. Throughout the night headquarters of the two brigades had frequently called on the residence citizens to request protection from suspicious characters.

With the death yesterday of William Dineen, an aged negro, who was lynched Saturday night, and Frank Dilmore, a white man, who was shot while watching the rioting, the list of known dead was increased to five. Bright hopes are not expected to recover and the unknown list is still figured at 15.

Springfield is steeped in the deepest sorrow. The capital of the state is truly and truly a sad scene. Her state, but she has determined to take the most vigorous steps to reassert justice and order.

John Hatch, who at the instance of and with the co-operation of Governor Deneen, stands in the van of this movement is backed by three-fourths of the citizens of Springfield, and is supported by the other fourth when they realize what he will attempt to do. The exceptions are the 200 prisoners now in jail for rioting, who stand in the way of the special grand jury which the state's attorney was to request today.

BOLTER BLOWS UP

Pleasure Steamer on Carp Lake, Mich., Wrecked by Explosion.

Many of the Passengers Hurlled Into the Water.

ONE PERSON KILLED.

Two Fatally Injured and Several Badly Hurt.

Some Were Scalded and a Dozen Are Missing.

Traverse City, Mich., Aug. 17.—One person is known to be dead, a dozen or more are missing and supposed to be drowned, two are fatally injured and a number are seriously hurt, as the result of the blowing up of the steamer Leelanau on Carp lake today.

The steamer which plies between the resorts on Carp lake was on the way from Leelanau to Fouché, on its early morning trip. Between 30 and 40 passengers were on board. At 7:30 the boiler of the steamer blew up, hurling many into the lake, and scalding others. The upper works were entirely blown to pieces.

Following is a list of the dead and injured:

The Dead: MRS. ISABEL LABONTE, 35, Traverse City.

The Injured: John Hartung, Leland, dying.

Russell Mills, Ann Arbor, scalded; condition critical.

Stanley Mills, Ann Arbor, scalded; serious.

Cook, Traverse City, badly scalded.

Miles Atwood, Leland, slightly scalded.

Richard Steffans, Leland, slightly scalded.

Mrs. Ralph Hastings, Traverse City, badly injured.

Ralph Hastings, city treasurer, Traverse City, slightly injured.

Others who are slightly hurt.

Carp lake lies in the northern Michigan resort district, being located in the peninsula between Lake Michigan and Traverse bay. Among the passengers of the Leelanau were a number of resorters from other states, but the list of casualties contains only the names of Michigan people.

Having only aboard pleasure seekers bound for Traverse City to attend a wild west circus, the little steamer was ploughing down the narrow lake with a steam pressure of 80 pounds trying to make up the time that had been lost in the early stages of the trip. As she was passing the Bing, the engineer discovered a loose bolt in the engine and shut off the steam to remedy the defect. It was while he was working on the loose bolt that the explosion occurred. The boiler gave away with a crash, tearing off the top of the engine and demolishing the pilot house and the upper works of the steamer, but leaving Engineer Edward Hardy unscathed by the havoc that swept aboard.

The force of the explosion had all been directed forward. Mrs. Labonte sitting near the pilot house conversing with her brother, Charles Moser, captain of the boat, was blown far out into the water, terribly mangled and John Hartung, who was at the wheel, was probably fatally injured. All those injured were sitting in the forward part of the boat. Many were thrown into the water and clung to the wreckage until rescued by farmers living along the shore, although some were able to shore. One person injured was brought to Traverse City. The steamer was tied to a wharf for repairs. She is 54 feet long with 12 feet beam and was rebuilt last season.

HE SHOOT A EDITOR.

Captain Hains, U. S. A., Mortally Wounds William E. Annis.

New York, Aug. 17.—Captain Peter Conover Hains, son of Brigadier General Peter Cooper Hains, and one of the most widely known young officers in the United States army, shot and mortally wounded William E. Annis, editor and owner of Burr McIntosh's Monthly, at the pier of the Bayside Yacht club in Bayside, L. I.

Annis died a few hours later in the Flushing hospital—the victim of a husband's revenge. For years he had been numbered among "Captain Hains' most intimate friends. But it is charged, he took advantage of the officer's absence in the Philippines on duty to win away the young and beautiful Mrs. Hains from her husband when he made a hurried trip home. First, a divorce suit, instituted in June, with Annis as the co-respondent, and then the shooting were the results of the confession.

Annis' wife, accompanied by her two children, witnessed the shooting from the club house piazza. Just a moment before the first shot was fired she caught sight of Captain Hains' uniform. Scouting danger, she called to her husband and tried to warn him, but he did not hear her. She collapsed in a state of hysteria as she saw Annis fall.

Weather Indications. Chicago, Aug. 17.—Forecast for Kansas: Generally fair tonight and Tuesday. Lower temperature.

the refugees and listened to their stories of distress. He had a word of encouragement for each. The Seventh regiment have not secured any camping ground as yet, being still bivouacked along the curbing on the Second street side of the arsenal.

Springfield Refugees in Bloomington. Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 17.—Crowds of colored refugees from Springfield are coming to Bloomington for shelter among people of their own race. Most of them walked long distances and also have been helped through by crews of the interurban lines. Most of them are penniless and all their possessions are carried in small bundles.

A movement has been started to give them assistance.

HERE ARE THE MEN

Those Nominated for Legislature in Kansas.

Glenn Nominee for Senator in Dumont Smith's District.

MR. REEDER HAS MORE

His Majority Over Ham Is Nearly Five Hundred.

Several Close Votes May Result in Contests.

Tuesday, August 18, is the day for the state canvassing board to meet, and there are still four counties which have not made their report of the canvass of the recent primary election. These four candidates are Cloud, Jewell, Lyon and Ford. Sedgwick county is only partially returned.

The State Journal prints today for the first time a list of the Republican and Democratic candidates for membership in the next Kansas house of representatives, with the exception of a few Democratic candidates whose names have not yet been reported.

In every district in the state, with one exception, the Republicans have a candidate in the field. The one exception is the Sixth district in Leavenworth county where the Democratic vote is said to be about 10 to 1. There are a number of districts in the state where the Democrats have no candidate, but in some of these the Republican will be opposed by an Independent or Socialist candidate.

There were a number of close contests for nomination to the legislature, and some of these will probably have to be decided before a contest board.

Wilson county Robt. Loofburrow beat W. J. Burtis for the Republican nomination by a vote of 751 to 750.

In Butler county, C. H. Selig beat H. A. Coppins by a vote of 458 to 450.

In Morris county, M. F. Amrine beat J. H. Smart by a vote of 566 to 557.

In Barber county, William Gesner beat Samuel Griffin by a vote of 374 to 370.

In the 125th district, composed of Morton and Stevens counties, Richard Broilner received 105 votes and J. C. Ellis 102.

Glenn for State Senator. Complete returns from the big Thirty-eighth senatorial district show that the total vote for the Republican candidate for state senator in the 18 counties which comprise the district was as follows:

Glenn, 1,417; Foules, 1,275; Fred Demont, 923; Rogers, 730. It has been supposed that Foules was the nominee in this district. The district went for Bristow for United States senator.

Reeder was nominated by the Democrats in the Thirty-eighth district and will run against Glenn. Sweeney was a Democratic representative in Pawnee county in the last legislature.

In the Thirty-ninth district, which takes a block of 13 counties in northwestern Kansas, the vote was as follows: William Jewell, 5,551; A. B. Jones, 2,351. Jones was therefore beaten by 1,200 majority. The Democratic candidate in this district will be Fred Robertson.

The Ham-Reeder Contest. Complete returns from the Sixth congressional district show that Reeder's total vote for congress was 7,511 and Ham's was 7,028, a majority for Reeder of 483. It is not likely that a contest in the face of such a big majority would be very profitable to Mr. Ham.

In the First district congressional district, Senator Anthony received 15,156 votes, and F. M. Pearl, the Democratic nominee received 3,438.

In the Second congressional district, Senator Sherman received 15,232 and Barney Sheridan, Democrat, received 5,555.

In the Third returns are not complete. P. P. Campbell is the Republican nominee, and T. J. Hudson is the Democratic nominee.

In the Fourth, with Lyon county missing, the total vote is Miller 6,950; Tucker 4,025. T. H. Grisham is the Democratic nominee.

Having only the vote was Calderhead 5,971; Rees 5,040; Smith, 2,184. R. A. Lovett is the Democratic nominee.

In the Sixth, Reeder is the Republican nominee and J. R. Connelly the Democratic.

In the Seventh, E. H. Madison is the Republican nominee and Sam I. Hale the Democratic.

BEARS LAWSON.

Wall Street Is Disturbed by the New Campaign

Inaugurated by the Boston Broker and Financier.

HE FINDS IMITATORS.

Tips Sent Out to People of Small Means.

Much Fear Felt That They Will Lose Their Money.

New York, Aug. 17.—Nothing in years has excited such deep if suppressed condemnation in financial and mercantile circles in this city as the present stock-jobbing operation which Thomas W. Lawson of Boston is endeavoring to carry on. It is too early as yet to judge how great harm will come to the public from Lawson's irresponsible appeal for money, but the evil effects of his advertising methods are already distinctly visible.

For the Bostonian has had a host of imitators, and as a result New York is afflicted with a pest of "tipsters" who are making the wildest efforts to stir up a general gambling fever. The newspapers and financial journals are widely criticized for lending their columns to these wild-cat advertisements, and there is considerable talk of asking the Stock Exchange to see if some means of prevention cannot be devised.

Promises of profits in stock speculation as dazzling and impossible as the promises of average mining promoters are being spread broadcast, not only by advertising, but by methods which Wall Street in its most booming days never heard of. Tipsters circulating the Lawson claims of untold profits have now taken to the telephone. During the last week an army of them have been calling up the names of small investors who have no financial knowledge and telling them to buy this or that stock for a rise.

To the same class of people postal cards, each carefully written in pencil, have been sent bearing similar appeals. This work has been supplemented by rumors started by talkative persons and by the use of wholesale and retail commercial dealers.

As a result more than one business man has expressed his fear that a period of rampant speculation in stocks started which would put an effectual crimp in the revival of prosperity. Financial men admit this possibility, and say that the women who are speculating in the legitimate functions of the stock exchange and threatening to bring that institution into public disrepute.

YOUNG FOR CHAIRMAN.

Mitchell County Senator Suggested for Head of State Committee.

Beloit, Kan., Aug. 17.—Both the Republicans and Democrats of Mitchell county rounded up here Saturday afternoon. That is, the two county committees. The object of the meeting was to elect new members of the executive and talk over the matters for the good of the respective parties. The two organizations met in separate rooms in the court house, at the same time. The two former members visited the other with any peaceful mission. State Senator I. D. Young of the Jewell-Mitchell county district, secretary of the two former squares, declared that he would be elected chairman of the Mitchell county Republican committee, Leon Carter, secretary, and J. W. Robinson, treasurer. The two former members of the executive, while the latter is supposed to train with the other fellows. The committee heartily endorsed Senator Young for chairman of the state committee. Young is a candidate for congress to succeed Reeder, but somehow a committee saw fit to withdraw his name from the contest for the sake of allowing an allowing Hain to be the only candidate against Reeder. If Senator Young should win in being elected chairman of the state committee, it would be believed that he would be a formidable candidate for congress two years from now; that is, providing the square dealers remain in the saddle. Senator Young voted for Ham in the primary election, and it is natural he should throw his strength to Reeder.

The Mitchell county Democratic committee is entirely harmonious. J. C. Eresch was unanimously re-elected chairman, and T. C. Rodgers, secretary. The two former members of the executive, while the latter is supposed to train with the other fellows. The committee heartily endorsed Senator Young for chairman of the state committee. Young is a candidate for congress to succeed Reeder, but somehow a committee saw fit to withdraw his name from the contest for the sake of allowing an allowing Hain to be the only candidate against Reeder. If Senator Young should win in being elected chairman of the state committee, it would be believed that he would be a formidable candidate for congress two years from now; that is, providing the square dealers remain in the saddle. Senator Young voted for Ham in the primary election, and it is natural he should throw his strength to Reeder.

The following shows the vote on the more important contested offices on both tickets; some comparisons with former votes:

Stubb's majority 16,175 With four counties missing. Governor, Republican—67,229 Stubb's majority 16,175 With four counties missing. Governor, Democratic—20,379 Harrison 7,568 Ryan 12,767

KILLED IN FRENZY.

Frightful Murder at Topeka State Asylum.

Sick Patient Is Dragged From His Bed

HAULED ABOUT ROOM

Then Strangled to Death With Improvised Rope.

Victim J. T. Bartley, a Helpless Paralytic.

Coroner's Jury Exonerates the Authorities at Inquest.

J. T. Bartley, a patient at the state hospital, was murdered about 5 o'clock Saturday evening, by Edward Waitje, another patient in the same ward. Although the coroner's jury has exonerated the management of the institution, there seems to have been some negligence on the part of the attendant of the ward.

Bartley, an old man who was partially paralyzed, and unable to leave his bed, was lying on his cot in the ward when a mosquito bar over his face kept off the flies. Waitje, a patient who has given much trouble, was taken out, according to the testimony of the attendants, for the evening exercise in the grounds. He was permitted to return to the ward alone, and it was found that he had killed Bartley with a rope made of the mosquito bar. Waitje twisted it into a rope, which he placed around Bartley's neck. Bartley was dead. Some time later, the attendant returned with his charges, and found the old man dead. Waitje made no excuse for his act. He is violently insane, and has run away several times while out for exercise. Another story returned by the attendant's tale, is in circulation. It is claimed that, because of Bartley's habit of running away, he was left alone with the cot, and when the patients were taken out for exercise, J. T. Bartley, the man who was killed, was sent to the asylum from Leavenworth county about a year ago. Edward Waitje was a murderer, ten years ago, and was confined to the asylum from Washington county last January.

An inquest was called this morning at the state hospital, and after hearing the evidence, the jury found the following verdict:

"We find that J. T. Bartley came to his death by being strangled with a rope made of the mosquito bar, said rope being in the hands of Edward Waitje, an inmate of the hospital, who is insane and unaccountable for his act."

We further find that the death of the said Bartley was an unavoidable accident, and we exonerate the management of the state hospital from any blame."

Dr. Biddle's Statement. Dr. T. B. Biddle, superintendent of the state hospital for the insane, made a statement to the State Journal today, in which he said:

"In this case, so far as I can learn from a strict investigation, and hearing the evidence given by the employes at the inquest this morning, are as follows: Both the man who was killed and the man who killed him, have been confined to their beds in that ward. Bartley was really ill, and suffering from paralysis. The other man, who spent most of his time in bed and refused to talk, we consider chronic hypochondriac. The fact that he killed his fellow patient shows that his physical health was good, although he has refused to talk for a long time."

"When one of the attendants of that ward took the other patients out for exercise Saturday evening, an attendant named Robertson was left in charge of the two patients in the ward. He says he looked in at their rooms, and finding them in bed as usual, went to the toilet, and was gone ten minutes. While he was absent, he says, he heard a slight noise, but nothing indicative of any violence, but upon returning to his patients, he found one of them dead by strangulation. The other man refuses to say anything, and returned to his bed after killing his fellow patient."

"Edward Waitje has been considered dangerous, but rather in the light of an invalid. He is morose and refuses to speak a word. The story that he has given trouble by running away is without foundation, as he has been out but a few times."

"I furnished all the evidence we could find here to the coroner's jury this morning."

BRYAN AT CITY PARK.

Will Deliver Address on Guaranty Bank Deposit Law.

William Jennings Bryan will deliver his bank deposit guaranty address in Topeka at the City park on the afternoon of Thursday, August 27. An effort has been made to arrange to have the address on the state house steps, but Secretary of State Denton refused to give his permission. He said the crowds would spoil the flowers, and that he wouldn't let anybody have the state house steps for a speechmaking, no, not even the great William H. Taft. The meeting in Topeka will be one of the big events of the Democratic campaign, not only in the state, but in the nation.

The Bryan campaign to make the occasion an exceptional one. Mr. Bryan will be quartered at the Hotel Troop. He will be met at the train when the morning train arrives. A committee and by members of the state central committee.

Merchants and business men of the city have been asked to decorate the business district with appropriate flags and bunting, as showing the proper courtesy to the Nebraska.

Arrangements are being made for handling a big crowd in Topeka on that day. If the weather is rainy, the meeting will be held in the Auditorium.

IT IS COOLER TODAY.

Mercury Drops to Eighty Degrees After Reaching Eighty-five.

The mercury reading at 2 o'clock today was 80, which is 14 degrees lower than at the corresponding hour Sunday which it lacked but 2 degrees of reaching the record mark of the season. Cloudy weather has prevailed since the middle of the forenoon and the temperatures have been gradually decreasing since noon when the maximum for the day was reached with a registration of 85.

A light drizzle prevailed from the north since early morning and about noon it increased in velocity until it registered 12 miles an hour and materially reduced the temperature which was steadily climbing. The indications are that a number of showers have fallen in this section of the state, though a slight rain has occurred in Topeka. The forecast indicates fair weather for Tuesday with about such temperatures as have prevailed during the latter part of today.

The following is the temperature story since 7 o'clock this morning: 7 o'clock 74 11 o'clock 82 8 o'clock 76 12 o'clock 85 9 o'clock 80 1 o'clock 81 2 o'clock 80

MRS. NATION HERE

Is Just as Enthusiastic as of Old.

Takes a Shot at Beer Advertising on Bill Boards.

Carrie Nation, the same old Carrie Nation of Kansas joint smashing fame, landed in Topeka this morning and remained here until late in the afternoon looking after the publication of a new edition of her book, "The Use and Need of the Life of Carrie Nation." Apparently she is ten years younger than when she last appeared in Topeka and has lost none of her hatred for "the demon rum."

"I just wanted to stop in the State Journal office once more and tell you what I think of the paper which I have always excepted when referring to the rum subsidized press. I picked up a paper in the east the other day and there saw a clipping from the Topeka State Journal advocating the removal of beer signs from bill boards and I want to tell you that the story did me good."

"I cannot help but feel proud that such a paper exists in my home state and that it is for a cleaner city and opposed to the rum traffic and is not afraid to say so. Next week I will be in Kalamazoo, Detroit and other Michigan towns and the first day of September I will be in Ohio."

"How about this story that a Chautauque at Garden City cancelled your date because one of the lawyers of the city objected to your appearance on the bill?"

"There is not a word of truth in that statement as I was compelled to cancel my engagement because I could not reach Garden City in time for the Chautauque."

"The leading prohibitionists objected to your appearance and threatened to withdraw their support if you spoke."

"I don't know anything about this or the man who is referred to as Judge Hutchins, and who led the opposition to me, but will say that I do not need him in my business, and next year I will be 30 Chautauque addresses to deliver and guess that I can get along without him. If he has been rightly quoted I will say that he is just as much opposed to prohibition as the vilest dive keeper in the state and on a par with them."

"I have had all the Chautauque work that could attend to this season and already I am booked for 20 addresses in July and August next year. Wherever I have appeared Carrie Nation day has been the big one of the season and I am doing money. There was a time when I did not know where the next meal was coming from but it is different now. I sold $100 worth of Carrie Nation hats in one day in Lincoln where I spoke in that city."

RINGLINGS WRECKED.

First Section of Circus Train in Trouble in B. C.

Bellingham, Wash., Aug. 17.—The first section of Ringlings' circus train was wrecked at Port Kells, B. C., on the Great Northern railway, 30 miles north of here yesterday afternoon and had a dozen attendants are reported hurt. Physicians who left here for the wreck last night, have not returned.

Found a Valuable Pearl.

Iola, Aug. 17.—While Will Burgess was wading in the river yesterday he put in part of his time opening clam shells. While doing this he found a pearl about the size of a small pea. He brought it to town and had a local jeweler examine it and set it in a ring. It is said the jeweler offered Mr. Burgess $18 for it but the offer was turned down and Mrs. Burgess now wears the pearl set in a beautiful ring. Mr. Burgess thinks the pearl is worth in the neighborhood of $75.
